1-1-11

Don't you just love that date? Happy New Year to all of you.

I spent New Year's Eve being tested and I'm proud to say I believe I passed the test.

Last year I posted the following questions on this blog and answered them in my journal. I've enjoyed rereading my 1-1-10 responses and am getting ready to answer them again. They are courtesy of David Allen of Getting Things Done and are a great way to sum up the past year and rev up for 2011.

Wanna play? Don't be scared, you don't have to have the answers to all of them. All you need is pen and paper or pen and journal to get started. Quiet time helps but is not a necessity.

Here ya go....

Remembering 2010

What was your biggest triumph in 2010?

What was the smartest decision you made in 2010?

What one word best sums up and describes your 2010 experience?

What was the greatest lesson you learned in 2010?

What was the most loving service you performed in 2010?

What is your biggest piece of unfinished business in 2010?

What are you most happy about completing in 2010?

Who were the three people that had the greatest impact on your life in 2010?

What was the biggest risk you took in 2010?

What was the biggest surprise in 2010?

What important relationship improved the most in 2010?

What compliment would you liked to have received in 2010?

What compliment would you liked to have given in 2010?

What else do you need to do or say to be complete with 2010?

Creating the new year 2011

What would you like to be your biggest triumph in 2011?

What advice would you like to give yourself in 2011?

What would you be most happy about completing in 2011?

What major indulgence are you willing to experience in 2011?

What would you most like to change about yourself in 2011?

What are you looking forward to learning in 2011?

What do you think your biggest risk will be in 2011?

What is one as yet undeveloped talent you are willing to explore in 2011?

What brings you the most joy and how are you going to do or have more of that in 2011?

Who or what, other than yourself, are you most committed to loving and serving in 2011?

What ONE word would you like to have as your theme in 2011?

1-1-11
