Everything is a process. With that in mind, I am in the process of trying to understand our autism with attitude member community. It's a little similar to facebook in how it is structured. I invite you to sign up and give it a try.

I envision it as a place for us to support each other on our journeys. A place to let it all hang out, so to speak. The positive and the not so positive. It's your arena to share. RD!girl has a very insightful blog post there today. Here's a taste.....

"Every day is a new day... another opportunity... a clean slate. A time for new choices...to do life a tiny bit better than the day before."

Join the community and read the rest.
